

CV of Dr. Thomas Gude

Thomas Gude is Deputy Head of SQTS, Switzerland. After studying food chemistry in Berlin, Germany followed by a PhD in the area of veterinary drugs at the Federal Health Service, Berlin, he has been working for an EU Reference Laboratory and for more than 10 years in pharmaceutical and chemical industry in various positions in research and development as well as in quality assurance. Since 12 years he is working for SQTS responsible for the food and non-food testing laboratories. Besides the analytical challenges he is working in the area of risk assessments with special focus on food contact materials resp. general consumer product materials. Besides that he is lecturer at several Universities like ETH.

